SUMMARY

A motivated Full stack Web Developer with a diploma in computer maintenance. After a year and a half working at Amazon, I decided to further pursue my passion in the tech field and turn it into a professional opportunity.

I have accomplished an online course in full-stack web development at DCI Berlin with a focus on MERN stack technologies. I am, furthermore, seeking a position to apply and deepen my knowledge in order to help your company create user-friendly experiences for its clients.
